

DISTRIBUTION SERVICES

Directional Command LLC provides a full range of aerial and underground distribution services. These services are provided by a team of industry professionals with an average of 25 years' hands on experience. All team members are capable of designing complete job packages including the use of WMIS and GIS/GWD software.

SOME OF THE SERVICES WE OFFER ARE:

Complete distribution design packages including job prints, material requirements, and preparation and submission of permit applications

Third Party Attachment surveys and cost estimates using GPS survey technology

Distribution Circuit Surveys used to enhance reliability and records systems

Reliability Engineering including outage analysis, fuse coordination, and strategic placement of DA equipment

Distribution Construction Standards Development

Field Storm Assessment

Job Cost Estimation

Project Construction Management